Well, this forenoon as a Bazoo reporter was prowling around the streets hunting 1st. Crowded his twin brother away an item, a ten-year-old boy called him across the street and said : "Did you hear about the child that was left last night at the residence of J. B. Simonds, formerly master mechanic of the Missouri Pacific 3rd. Perpetrated a breach of promise road, and now holding the same position on a hand-ome and trusting virgin, which on the Cairo short line, whose family said perpetration sent her headlong to a residence is on the corner of Sixth street and Washington avenue?" "No," replied

"Go and hunt it up," said the boy and you'll find a good item.

The reporter called at the above named monds, who, in answer to inquiries by the scribe, related the following as to
